Gordon Blocker

Principal Consultant, The Table Group

Founder, Gordon Blocker Consulting, LLC

With more than 20 years of business management and leadership experience, Gordon has developed a keen ability to recognize how organizations get bogged down with politics and confusion dysfunction – and how to retool for a healthy, high-performing organization. Gordon has an extensive background in serving multiple industries including technology, manufacturing, professional services, education, healthcare, nonprofits and various other sectors.

Prior to partnering with The Table Group, Gordon was a Principal for DSG Consulting and the firm's VP of Operations. While with DSG, he gained extensive experience leading cross-functional teams to implement new strategies.

Gordon has first-hand experience building his own high-performing teams. His relational, dynamic leadership style aids clients in breaking through barriers and gaining strategic insights and clarity. His passion is to work with clients who see the need for change and are committed to making organizational health stick.

As a Principal Consultant with the Table Group, Gordon works regularly with CEOs, leaders, and executives to master the disciplines of organizational health. Gordon's focus is on effecting lasting change, not just quick fixes. The majority of Gordon's clients work with him for long-term engagements to realize transformation.

Gordon and his wife Shawna are the proud parents of five children.

Endorsements

"I've valued working with Gordon over the last few years. His insights and guidance have been invaluable and made the end product better. I trust his experience and instincts, and he always keeps a level, cool head, even when things get tough."

— Jason Ward, VP Industry Strategy & Marketing, Adobe Systems

"Gordon's partnership with our H&P leadership team is extraordinary. His 20+ years of experience, his approach and his strategic insight have enabled him to forge strong relationships throughout every level of our company. Working alongside Gordon and The Table Group, H&P is strengthening its organizational health as we focus on our vision of improving lives through affordable energy."
