Casey Thompson

Principal Consultant, The Table Group

Casey brings over eight years of consulting and managing experience to his partnership with The Table Group. Having applied concepts from Patrick Lencioni's books throughout his career, he works as an adviser to executive teams with a focus on improving their businesses through greater organizational health. Casey's engaging and practical approach helps leadership teams gain clarity, define, and implement strategies focused on bottom line business results.

His focus on organizational health and crafting cohesive leadership teams has been the defining theme of his time managing within and consulting to Fortune 500 companies, start-ups, and passionate non-profits. He believes that changing the world of work is possible and is laser-focused on getting results.

After just one session, you will quickly see his desire to develop deep and lasting relationships with executive teams that focus on establishing clarity, minimizing politics, and tapping into the last sustainable competitive advantage in business – organizational health. Casey's sessions are impactful and lasting and generate immediate results for leadership teams, which you can measure in days and weeks.

Prior to joining The Table Group, Casey had his own practice as a strategic management consultant. In addition, he has managed product teams for VF Corporation and VF International in North America, Europe, and Asia.

Casey lives in Salt Lake City, Utah where he enjoys skiing, golfing, and the great outdoors.
