Jeff Gibson

President, Consulting

Jeff brings 20 years of consulting experience to The Table Group where he has responsibility for managing our global consulting organization. Whether he's working with a CEO, addressing senior executives during a conference or workshop, or counseling a client over the phone, Jeff brings his passion, enthusiasm and contagious optimism for organizational health to every client he touches.

Currently, Jeff works regularly with CEOs and executive teams in applying the concepts captured in all of Patrick Lencioni's books. His clients span a variety of industries, including technology, financial services and healthcare. Specific organizations Jeff has worked with include Southwest Airlines, HBK, Barclaycard US, Deloitte, Western Digital Corporation, Chick-fil-A, Rackspace, HCA Inc., Pinterest, as well as many others.

In addition to his work with consulting clients and speaking engagements, Jeff has been instrumental in the development and refinement of The Table Group's original methodologies and subsequent books authored by Patrick Lencioni.

Prior to joining The Table Group in 1999, Jeff worked as a management consultant for Deloitte. After earning his electrical engineering degree from UCLA, he began his career with Hughes Electronics as a hardware design engineer. During that time he discovered his latent passion for leadership development which led him to pursue an MBA in management and organizational behavior from the University of Washington where he graduated with honors.

Jeff lives with his wife and two children in Walnut Creek, California.

Endorsements

"Jeff's work with our leadership team has yielded substantial results. He helped drive clarity of purpose for our team and gave us the tools to stay aligned and effective. He brings energy and passion to his work, and I believe our company is markedly better as a result of the ongoing partnership. I would recommend Jeff and The Table Group to any company wanting to improve the overall health of their organization."

— Steve Milligan, president and CEO, Western Digital Corporation

"Jeff brings to life all the attributes I look for in a consultant. He starts by building relationships, asking great questions, and listening. He doesn't try and apply pre-packaged solutions to our business and People goals. Rather, he works hard to bring practical solutions to the table quickly."

— Jeff Lamb, EVP & Chief People & Administrative Officer, Southwest Airlines
