Angela Quail

Principal Consultant, The Table Group

Founder, Angela Quail Consulting

Angela is a seasoned management consultant, entrepreneur, and executive coach who helps CEO's and leadership teams succeed in building organizational health. As a Principal Consultant with The Table Group, she is passionate about helping teams leverage their collective strengths for growth and competitive advantage.

Angela works regularly with leadership teams to quickly and effectively apply the concepts captured in all of Pat Lencioni's books. Her clients span a broad spectrum of industries, including agriculture, manufacturing, finance, technology, and healthcare.

Angela's focus on bringing out the best in teams drives her success as a consultant with The Table Group. By supporting teams to develop trust, an appetite for healthy conflict, and deep commitment to results, Angela instills practical habits and facilitates solutions crafted to each client's unique business situation.

Angela has over 25 years of business experience. She founded a boutique strategy firm that developed a methodology helping Fortune 500 leaders align market strategy with customers' needs. Angela graduated from Stanford University with a B.A. and an M.A. in Philosophy and Religious Studies.

Born in Australia, Angela has lived in six countries, but for the last 14 years, she has lived in Chico, California with her husband and two basketball-loving sons.

Endorsements

“Angela brings an amazing approach to company leaders who must get their departments to perform. She is able to translate respectfully, and in a way you can hear, how to understand each person's point of view. She sees the unique qualities of everyone on the team, then works to get them engaged in the work and more importantly, with each other. She holds me accountable to being the best leader I can be. When you put all of that together, you get a high-performance team.”

— Erron Al Amin, Customer Insights and Experience Executive, CSAA Insurance Group, a AAA Insurer

“Angela has taken a keen interest in our team and our organization. She is committed to our success with regular check ins, offers of support, and coaching to help further develop our executive team. We are excited to be on this new path and couldn't be more appreciative of Angela and The Table Group for helping us get to this point. Our team is working so much better together as a result of this work!”

— Jeff Collins, President, Cascade Orthopedic Supply, Inc.
