Matt Lashbrook

Principal Consultant, The Table Group

Founder, Grace Consulting Group

Matt brings over 20 years of leadership and management experience to his partnership with The Table Group. With extensive experience working with leaders and teams in the Government and Financial Services sectors, Matt now provides expertise in helping CEO's build cohesive teams and competitive advantage with The Table Group. Whether he's meeting with leaders one-on-one, facilitating team sessions, or leading large workshops, Matt's passion for people and healthy organisations is contagious. His insights and skills in uncovering the true challenges teams face enables him to provide clients with practical solutions that have a profound impact on the health of the organisation.

Matt works regularly with leadership teams to quickly and effectively apply the concepts captured in all of Pat Lencioni's books. His clients span a broad spectrum of industries, including Financial Services, Government, and Mining.

Matt's passion for helping organizations, and the leaders within them brought him to this partnership with The Table Group. Matt is an intuitive and incisive coach to many successful leaders, and has an ability to cut through to the heart of challenging team issues while maintaining awareness of the individuals.

Prior to partnering with The Table Group Matt spent 10 years in financial services working in some of Australia's largest financial institutions. Before this he spent 16 years as a fraud investigator with the Australian Federal Government managing joint agency operations and leading investigative teams.

Matt enjoys a variety of sports and still plays competitive soccer. Matt and his wife have three children and reside in Brisbane, Queensland.
